I was, I must confess. Great Albion s queen in former golden days: But now mischance hath trod my title down, And with dishonour laid me on the ground; Where I must take like seat unto my fortune, 10 And to my humble seat conform myself. K. Lew. Why, say, fair queen, whence springs this deep despair? Q. Mar. From such a cause as fills mine eyes with tears, And stops my tongue, while heart is drowned in cares. K. Lew. Whate er it be, be thou still like thyself, 15 And sit thee by our side: Seats her by him. yield not thy neck To f0rtune s yoke, but let thy dauntless mind Still ride in triumph over all mischance. Be plain, Queen Margaret, and tell thy grief; It shall be eased, if France can yield relief. 20 Q, Mar. Those...
